Business Aviation is taking off from the Mediterranean

London, UK, July 6, 2012: Aeropodium is organising the first Mediterranean Business Aviation Summit on September 14, 2012 in Malta. The Prime Sponsor of this event is Aircraft Corporate Services (Malta) Limited. Air Support and CSB Group are exhibiting at this international summit for the Mediterranean region.

The MBA Summit will provide the platform for manufacturers and operators as well as any organization interested in the Mediterranean market, to explore all aspects affecting the future of this industry. It is a unique opportunity to debate the future of business aviation, learn about the latest developments in light jets, explore the regional air taxi market, discuss different business models, learn about the regional infrastructure development, and network with leading experts in the region.
