Aero Expo Panama Pacifico opens its doors in April 2016

London, UK, March 4, 2016: Aeropodium and Air Link Atlantic are honoured to announce the launch of the Aero Expo Panama Pacifico to be held on April 21-22, 2016 in Panama. Panama Pacifico International Airport is the platinum sponsor and official host of this major event in Panama City. Exhibition and sponsorship packages are available offering unique branding opportunities and exposure to the regional market. The two-day program includes seminars on finance and legal issues as well as the future of Panamanian aviation with the participation of expert speakers.

Exhibitors include Dassault Falcon, Embraer Executive Jets, ARINC Direct and Rockwell Collins, JSSI, Mapiex, AirPro Components, Aviazion Group and Romack Services. Furthermore, Credit Suisse will be the sponsor of the networking drinks reception during the exhibition.

Global growing traffic and aircraft demand present a challenge for the industry. This event will provide the platform for the presentation of the latest developments in the business aviation sector of Panama, Latin America and the Caribbean and new business opportunities and challenges for operators and manufacturers. It is a unique opportunity for all participants to enhance their knowledge about the regional market, learn about regional infrastructure developments, and network with leading experts.

Participating companies will represent business aircraft operators and manufacturers, FBO operators, safety and security experts, financing companies, and sectors such as insurance, software technology, airport infrastructure, aircraft registration and other areas that affect business aviation in the region.

The event will also provide a unique networking opportunity for business aircraft operators, aircraft manufacturers, registries, banks, airports, law firms, financial analysts, leasing and finance companies and any aviation professional with an interest in the development of the business aviation sector in Panama, Latin America and the Caribbean. Trade visitors will have the opportunity to pre-arrange for one-to-one meetings with exhibitors.
