

Central American and Caribbean Aviation
10th - 11th April 2014
Panama City, Republic of Panama

PRESS RELEASE

Email: mail@aeropodium.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 7, 2014

Panama hosts international aviation symposium about Central America and the Caribbean

London, UK, March 7, 2014: Aeropodium in conjunction with Air Link Atlantic presents the Central American and Caribbean aviation symposium to be held on April 10-11, 2014 in Panama City, Republic of Panama.

This major aviation event is supported by Malakut Corredores de Reaseguros, sponsor of the networking lunch and TW Metals, sponsor of the delegate bags and it will take place at Panama Marriott Hotel.

Expert speakers will contribute to the debates including Llewellyn V. Boyer-Cartwright of Callenders & Co, Julienne de Bernard Cowes of the Ministry of Commerce of Panama, Alexandra Egorova of Malakut Corredores de Reaseguros, Liège Emmerz of Lufthansa Consulting, Lincoln D. Gomez of Gomez & Bikker, Donald G. Gray of Blake, Cassels & Graydon, Stuart A. Klaskin of Jetstream Aviation Capital, Gary Moore of Industrial Solutions & Supply Corp, Roland H. Moore Esq, Aviation Attorney, Brian Moroney of TW Metals, Robert Mraz of TW Metals, Tetsuya "Ted" Nozaki of MC Aviation Partners Americas, Jan Willem Storm van's Gravesande of Aviation Independent Consulting, a senior representative of DHL Aero Expreso, and a senior representative of ICF SH&E.

It is expected that 6.9% airline growth will take place in Latin America in the next 10 years and a record number of aircraft will be delivered to the region. It is predicted that 2,500 aircraft will be required in Latin America by 2030 and airlines are growing their market share.

Furthermore, there are new opportunities for low cost carriers in Latin America and Panama is developing as a hub for aviation services in the region. There are crucial advantages for aviation services in Panama for operators, OEM, MRO, training organizations and aviation related services. There are also maintenance needs in the region and hangars in Panama and ready for MRO operations.

In addition, three new international airports are constructed in Panama and there are new business opportunities to support their operations. There is no doubt that there are new infrastructure developments and a strong vision for the future and for this reason, government agencies support programs for aviation related investments.

The symposium in Panama will explore themes such as the benefits of doing business in Panama for international aerospace companies, and the changing face of aerospace manufacturing. Furthermore, presentations and debate will be included in the finance, air cargo, manufacturers and legal panels. This event will provide excellent networking opportunities for operators, aircraft manufacturers, banks, airports, law firms, financial analysts, leasing and finance companies and all aviation professionals with an interest in the current and future development of the region's commercial aviation sector.

This major aviation event is organized by Aeropodium in conjunction with Air Link Atlantic.
For more information, please visit the official website www.aeropodium.com/panama.html

For all enquiries, please contact mail@aeropodium.com

For press passes, please contact Aeropodium at register@aeropodium.com

For more information about Aeropodium projects, please visit www.aeropodium.com

-End