European Aviation Summit to be Hosted and Sponsored by the Icelandair Group

London, UK, December 29, 2009: The European Aviation Asset Management Summit will be held on 15th April 2010 in Reykjavik, Iceland. This major European event is hosted and sponsored by the Icelandair Group and Loftleidir Icelandic.

Dr. Panagiotis Panagopoulos, Founder and Director of Aeropodium pointed out that "following the success of the asset management conference in the Middle East, the European aviation industry will meet in Iceland, a strategic location between Europe and N. America, in order to explore the latest developments in aviation asset management in Europe as well as the future of asset management services. The event will provide the platform for high level debate, exchange of ideas and information as well as extensive networking opportunities for aviation executives from Europe and around the world."

The main purpose is to debate issues that affect asset management in the European aviation market. Topics to be discussed will include the management of aviation assets for airlines, appraisals, leasing and financing aircraft, valuation, pre-purchase inspection, leasing management, finance and strategic planning, risk management, portfolio management, insurance, remarketing, repossession, technical asset management, engine maintenance, airworthiness assessment, aircraft sales, aircraft delivery, asset recovery, safety and regulatory compliance, security, legal issues, new airlines, all-business class aircraft operators, case studies from European regions, low cost airlines, and the future of European aviation. The event will also provide the opportunity for networking with airlines, aircraft manufacturers, banks, airports, law firms, financial analysts, leasing and finance companies and any aviation professional involved with the development of the aviation asset management sector in Europe.

This conference is organized by Aeropodium. Airlines can attend free of charge. The Early-Bird Delegate Registration Fee is €100 and it includes access to the conference, the networking breaks as well as the conference proceedings.
