LIGHT JETS TAKE OFF: EUROPEAN CORPORATE AVIATION SUMMIT TO BE HELD IN SWEDEN

London, UK, March 14, 2010: Aeropodium proudly announces the "European Corporate Aviation Summit (ECAS) - Light Jets Take Off" to be held on Thursday 2nd & Friday 3rd September 2010 in Linköping, Sweden. The conference is Hosted & Sponsored by IceFly Aviation.

ECAS 2010, a major business aviation event for Europe will take place in Linköping, the birthplace of Swedish aviation. The event coincides with the 100th anniversary of flying in Sweden and the conference participants will also have the opportunity to attend activities organised by the local authorities.

Linköping stands for world-class high-tech especially since Saab established its aircraft manufacturing facilities in the city in 1937. It also has a strategic position with its own airport and good communications with the outside world.

Linköping City Airport is situated in the heart of the county of Östergötland but also half way between Gothenburg and Malmö in the south and Stockholm on the east coast. The airport offers services to General Aviation for business, private and leisure operators. Linköping has one of the country's largest aviation clubs, Linköpings flygklubb, with approximately 350 members. As part of the infrastructure development of the airport, the construction of a dedicated General Aviation Center has begun. Such a terminal will be vital for the region's business air travellers and point-to-point air taxi services.

Light Jets take off in Europe and this two-day conference will explore the latest developments in the corporate aviation sector of Europe and new business opportunities and challenges in the region. It will also provide the platform for manufacturers and operators as well as any organization interested in this marketplace, to explore all aspects affecting the future of this industry. It is a unique opportunity to debate the future of business aviation, learn about the latest developments in Light Jets, explore the Air Taxi market, discuss different business models, enhance their knowledge about the European market, learn about the regional infrastructure development, and network with leading experts as well as business aircraft operators.

Who should attend: Business aircraft operators, manufacturers, consultants, bankers, lawyers, airport executives, aviation operators, leasing and financing companies, insurance companies and all professionals with an interest in the growth of business aviation and future opportunities in Europe.

This conference is organized by Aeropodium. The Early-Bird Delegate Registration Fee is €150 and it includes access to the ECAS Summit, the networking breaks, and the conference proceedings.
