Aviation Opportunities in the Isle of Man to be explored at International Summit

London, UK, May 25, 2011: Aeropodium is organizing in association with ICM Aviation, an international conference to celebrate the success of the Aircraft Registry in the Isle of Man and promote the island's aviation interests. The "Isle of Man: The International Aviation Centre" conference will take place on July 12, 2011 at the impressive Villa Marina in Douglas, Isle of Man.

Panagiotis Panagopoulos, CEO and Founder of Aeropodium pointed out that "aviation professionals from around the world are attracted to the wider opportunities found in the Isle of Man and the conference offers unique networking opportunities and hard-to-find information."

The conference will be chaired by Manx Radio's licensed pilot Stuart Peters and the Keynote Address Speaker will be Hon Alan Bell MHK, Minister of Economic Development. The list of distinguished speakers includes Brian Johnson, Director of Civil Aviation, Adrian Moore, Development Manager Industry and Space for the Department of Economic Development, Tim Craine, Director of the Business Development Agency, Mark Byrne, Director of ICM Aviation and many more.
