Part 135 Symposium to be held at the Miami Beach Golf Club

London, UK, June 12, 2012: Aeropodium is honored to present the Part 135 Symposium to be held on June 20, 2012 at the Miami Beach Golf Club in Miami, FL. This event is sponsored by Avinode, EAS Charter, and Worldwide Transportation.

The one-day symposium is a chance for operators and brokers to convene in an intimate, informal setting, in order to discuss issues germane to everyday charter operations. The symposium will focus on important topics, presented by noted industry professionals, and which include:

The rise of South American charter, including a discussion of differences in aircraft, hourly and other line item pricing, cabotage in Latin America (Brazil/Mercosur issues in particular) and how safety is viewed in the marketplace.

An update of the Far East, and in particular, Chinese charter marketplace; including discussion of intra-China travel, the permit process, prospective cabotage issues and airport services and operational hours.

A presentation and discussion of hot button issues to focus on, between operators and brokers: duty time basics, aircraft performance and operational issues, FET basics.

Open discussion based upon outstanding issues from earlier presentations.
